Child Size Masterpieces Of Steps 1, 2, 3 - Matching, Pairing, And Sorting - Level 1 Easy

Synopsis

This beautifully printed volume is the first in the 8 book series, Child-size Masterpieces for Art Appreciation, by Aline Wolf. This volume contains 36 postcard-size art reproductions to be cut out and used for the first 3 steps of the program: matching identical paintings, pairing two paintings by the same artist and grouping four paintings by the same artist. Carefully chosen to appeal to young children, the selections include a wide variety of subjects and styles. Appropriate for 3-7 year-olds in 3 levels of gradually increasing challenge. Using the How to Use Child-size Masterpieces Handbook, also by Aline Wolf, is suggested.

Aline Wolf has written over 25 books for children, teachers and parents. She has long been regarded as one of the most respected interpreters of Maria Montessori's philosophy and methods. Other titles include: Nurturing the Spirit in Non-Sectarian Classrooms, Our Peaceful Classroom, A Parents' Guide to the Montessori Classroom, Montessori Insights for Parents of Young Children and Look at the Child, among others. Mrs. Wolf is the mother of 9 and grandmother of 17.

Lovely art cards. My only gripe is that they're not pre-cut, or even prefforated lines. I feel like for the price, some of the work should be done. However, once cut out, they are great. My son, who is 4, really enjoys them. I've already recommended them to other moms.

I believe that exposing your child to a lot of different things is a good idea. I particularly believe two of the most overlooked things that are easy to expose children to is art and music. This book is book one of the postcard series for exposing your child to art. This book is just postcards of different artists and styles of art. There are multiples of some of these postcards that you can use for matching. If you do nothing else except look at these postcards with your child, you have done a lot. If you follow her easy to do 'program' of matching, buying and sorting postcard sized art, this book is a must. It sure beats trying to find your own postcards and mount them. As an added note, it is well worth the extra money to get the parent/teacher book explaining why and how to complete these easy activities with your child.

Love this series! I have young kids and teach in a rural area. Not a lot of museums to go to around here. These cards are a perfect way to introduce art to young ones. They are hands on and great quality. This book is only the postcards not the "how to" book. After cutting apart the postcards you do not have a book left at all. So if you want the instructions for using them you need the "How to use Child Size Masterpieces". However I do know some moms that use with out that book. They create their own games and drills to help the kids learn.

Nice selection of pictures, and color coding. Easy to use, and children at home seem interested in exploring them.

Our 7 month old loves looking at and touching the variety of pictures. Great for talking and pointing interaction.

This is a nice learning tool for our 3 year old granddaughter for her art lessons, although I would have liked to see more pictures included in the set.

These reproductions are very good, and the size of these pictures make them manageable for even young children to work with

This is a great concept and something that has worked for many years in the Montessori classroom. However, I would point out that the print quality isn't really the best compared to more modern examples, and as another reviewer pointed out, sometimes the lines don't really line up. You need to be very careful not to cut into the artwork! I wound up using this in the course of our homeschooling curriculum, but I also came across some awesome little art cards here on for super cheap. If you search for "Small-Format Card Books" you'll find several sets of small art postcards featuring a variety of important artists. They are mostly included in the Prime shipping program and are currently part of the 4-for-3 deal, to boot. At (way) less than 2 dollars for a pack of 6 cards, it's a steal and a great way to expand the idea presented in this series.
