SharpMan is an online magazine dedicated to providing men and boys with step-by-step answers to dating, grooming, work, travel, and health questions. It is based in Los Angeles.

Hard to believe this book on grooming contains no tips on how young men can avoid embarrassing skid marks. Nothing turns a woman off faster than seeing those brown marks on a man's underwear just before getting it on! The problem? It is impossible to clean your ass with just paper. Paper leaves a residue that allows bacteria or fungus to flourish. This can result in undesired itching, odor and the possibility of inflammation or infection. And skid marks! No matter how much shampoo, hair cream, deodorant, toothpaste, after shave, manicure a man uses, the only way to avoid this most embarrassing and unhygienic of scourges is to wash one's ass after toilet use with a bidet.
