HOWARD GARRETT is the author of fourteen books, a landscape architect, certified arborist, horticulturist, and organic practitioner. He promotes his organic gardening program, The Natural

Way, through his KSKY-660 AM radio show and across the country on the Salem Radio Network, a weekly column in the Dallas Morning News, the monthly DIRT magazine, and the natural organic web site www.dirtdoctor.com, as well as through regional and national speaking engagements.

Excellent book for novice and pro gardeners alike. Going to local nurserys and picking out plants based on what looks nice can translate into loads of frustration, expense, and disappointment. Here is a book that gives the reader a some degree of confidence that one can plant a garden and / or landscape that will actually thrive under our unique climate conditions. The number of plant and trees he has listed along with the detail specification on where and how to grow the plants have given me renewed confidence and inspiration to beautify my bayou jungled backyard.

Goes beyond the typical plants you see offered at most chain nurseries and box stores in Houston. Gave me great ideas for my yard!

This was a gift for my wife and we loved reading through it to choose plants for our backyard. We found it informative but some plants had more detailed write up than others which we found difficult.

Excellent book for the Houston area. One of the best plant and planting books on the market

Garrettt provides succinct information in an easily accessible manner. Photographs are lovely and leave no question about plant identification. It is an excellent guide as well as reference.

Howard knows his stuff, and this book gives great advice and has great pics.If you planing a landscape for your yard in Houston, or Zone 9 areas get this book

Thrilled with garden book. Good information for the area.

Great book
