Pete Nelson's previous books for Abrams include Treehouses of the World (2004) and New Treehouses of the World (2009). The host of the Animal Planet show Treehouse Masters, Nelson runs Nelson Treehouse and Supply (NTS) outside of Seattle. He lives in Fall City, Washington.

This is a great product with wonderful photos, the squares for the dates are good sized, enough to enter appts, and/or birthdates. What surprised me is the size of the calendar itself, it's longer than the standard, which is fine for my location.

Always great.

I bought this for our office and the patients love it. They "walk around in the photo" mentally, and it's a great distraction from uncomfortable procedures such as flu shots and blood draws. I get to hear about the tree houses they had as kids or are building for kids or grandchildren. Everyone wants to live in one of those pictured on this calendar. It makes for great conversation and is a good ice-beaker for new patients. Lots of fun, and useful in the office, too - not just to keep the date!

I bought this because of the photo on the front. There were no photos of what is on the inside. I thought my daughter-in-law would like it. However, when I received it I understood why the photos on the inside are not revealed. I kept it and bought her something else.

Because my daughter has always wanted a treehouse of her own, she was really pleased to receive this calendar as a Christmas present. The calendar is a good size, with enough room for writing in appointments; it's made of sturdy paper; and the photographs are excellent.

I get one for myself and a very good friend every year! I never look ahead to the next month's picture.. always surprised! Wish there were 24 months in a year! Ha!

What a lovely collection of treehouses with commentary. My daughter adores the show and aspires to be a treehouse builder herself, so if you have a budding builder, this is a great gift.

Loved the wide range of gorgeous treehouses, from colorfully and magically whimsical, to functionally practical to just plain celebrations of the desire to hug a tree. Loved 'em all!
